

UND Games Club

The UND Games Club is a student organization based at the University of North Dakota. The club is dedicated for playing PC, console, retro, and tabletop games that are open to the student community.

Meetings: The Games Club meets every Friday at the Wilkerson Commons' Innovation Lab, starting at 7 pm and running up to midnight. You don't need to be there by 7; anyone can drop in at any time. If there are any conflicts with scheduling, or if meetings are cancelled due to other events, information regarding changes that week will be posted on the club's website and/or Facebook page. As the three rooms within the Innovation Lab for public use, they may or may not be open for club use.

Membership: To become a Games Club member, please contact the club's president, and give your name and student email address. Regardless of membership status, anyone can attend meetings; however, only members are allowed to attend any club-sponsored events.

Game Policy: People are encouraged to bring their own games and consoles to meetings, as the club doesn't collectively own games. Preferably, bring multiplayer-compatible games and any equipment required to play. Note that there are 4 TVs and a projector available at the Innovation Lab, and that they only have HDMI outputs (meaning that older consoles will likely need an adaptor to work).

Food and Drink: Most snacks and beverages can be brought to meetings; however, there are a few exceptions. Any product containing allergens (e.g. peanuts) must be approved first, as well as any food brought for sharing with multiple members. Everything must also be picked up before leaving the lab.

Events: If there are any events that you'd like the club to attend (e.g. tournaments), please contact the president for recommendation. Any events considered by the club will be presented to members first. Entrance fees for events may apply.
